

Get Ahead of Your APR with P APR: A Pre-APR Strategy

Darlene Cole

Urban Pelicon

Jacque Deahl

COBRO CONSULTING

Are you thinking about the APR yet?

In this session we'll:

Discuss challenges

Share experiences

Explore a process

Consider solutions

Communicate tips

Examine/develop tools

By failing to prepare, you are preparing to fail.

commonly credited to Benjamin Franklin

What are your key APR challenges?

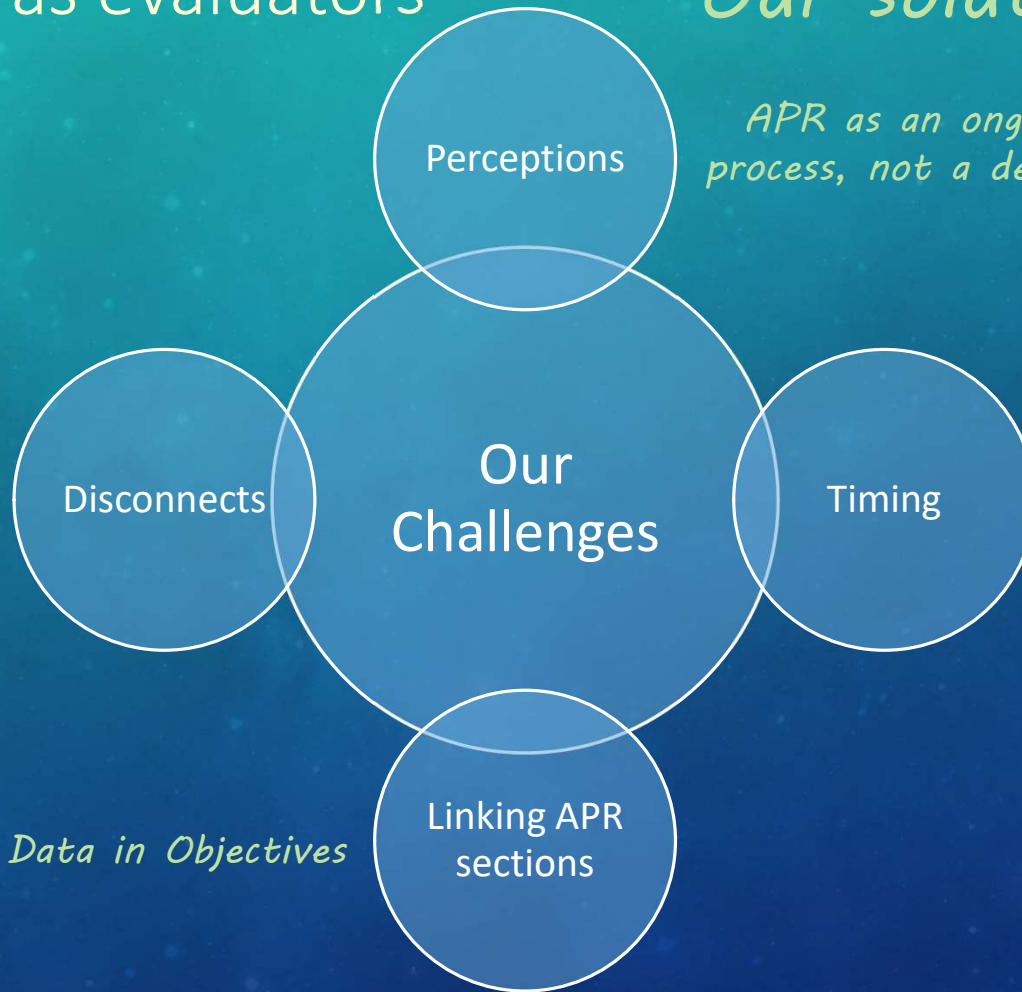

Our challenges as evaluators

Our solutions

APR as an ongoing process, not a deadline

Realistic timeframes, order of tasks

Discuss TOGETHER

Data in IV, V, & VI ⇒ Data in Objectives

The Pre-Annual Performance Report (PAPR) Process

The Pre-Annual Performance Report (PAPR) Process

Phase 1: Obtain Data

2
weeks

What is your process for obtaining data for the APR?

What data do we need?

Who is getting the data?

Where do we get the data?

Do we have everything?

When can we
get the data?

Phase 1: Obtain Data

Phase 2: Data Validation

3
weeks

- What do you check for?
- Our Data Validation experiences

The preparation is what allows the success to happen naturally.

Jake Arrieta

Phase 1: Obtain Data

Phase 2: Data Validation

Phase 3: APR Sections IV, V, & VI

2
weeks

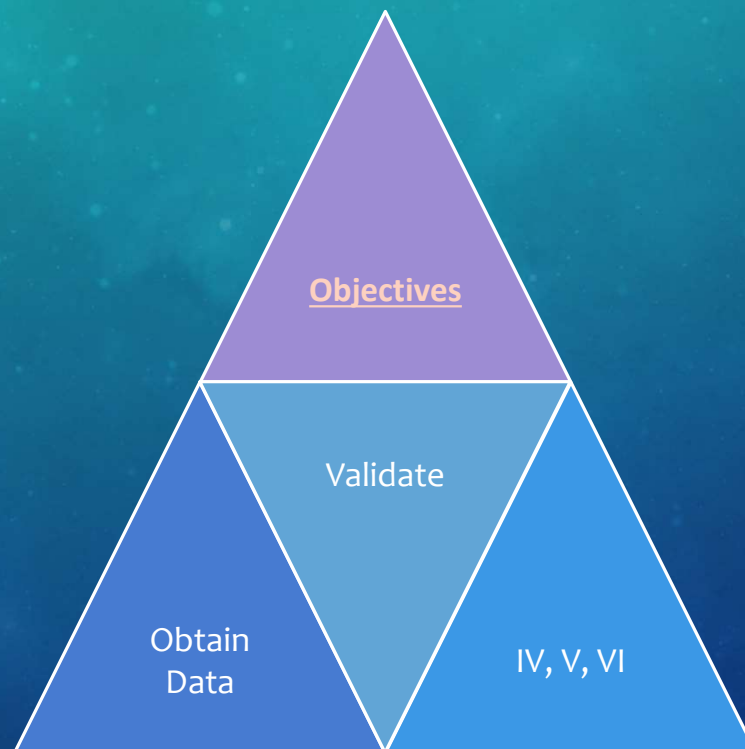

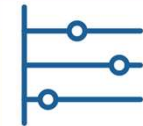

Phase 1: Obtain Data

Phase 2: Data Validation

Phase 3: APR Sections IV, V, & VI

Phase 4: Program Objectives

2
weeks

Phase 1: Obtain Data

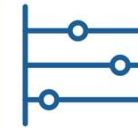

Phase 2: Data Validation

Phase 3: APR Sections IV, V, & VI

Phase 4: Program Objectives

Phase 5. Missing Pieces

Jan-
Apr

Communicate Early and Often

Responsibilities

Timeframes

Lines of communication

Keep records

What could we add? What could you add?

The Pre-Annual Performance Report (PAPR) Process

Organize, don't agonize.

commonly credited to Florynce Kennedy

dcole@cobroconsulting.com

upelicon@cobroconsulting.com

jdeahl@sde.idaho.gov